

MY PERSONAL RECORD · YVES ELIANOR LOPEZ

My name is Yves Elianor Lopez, I'm looking for an IT Development job to achieve experience.

To begin with, in 2013 I obtained my A levels in technological and technic abilities from Carolinas North High School. Then I entered in a special course where I learned the basics of programming languages.

While I was studying programming, I worked temporarily as a freelancer designer for a year, later I worked as an administrative for an important accounting office, from 2014 to 2016.

I was hired as administrative staff. My duties were diverse: I was in charge of answering the phone, managing files, the agenda or typing documents among others. I worked there for one year.

After that, whilst I liked my job as an administrative, I decided to study something related to new digital technologies and multiplatform applications development so in 2021 I started studying a Vocational Training Degree to become a professional Database Administrator, managing and deploying specialized Databases resources with applications in Big Data and Global Analytics.
